Local Department.

Jay Cumings advertises a fine lot of new goods this week.

M. P. Allen has opened a room for the sale of furniture and musical instruments on the corner of Main and Niles streets.

Noyes of the model store, don't care if the Fourth has passed. He is going to hurrah, just the same. Read his new "ad."

Jack Rich of Waverly, drove through town last week Wednesday with a brand new Geo. Wm. Curtis tied behind his carriage.

According to the census reports there were, during the year ending July 1st, 45 births and 33 deaths in the township of Paw Paw.

Buell Bonfoy of this village, has 90 colonies of bees in his apiary. He left a specimen of his honey with us that was just elegant.

Married, in Lawton, the 29th of June last, by Rev. H. West, Mr. Willard Delos Warner of Waverly, to Miss Arabella Amelia Quick of Paw Paw.

The evergreen arch across Main street has been repaired, a flag pole elevated from its center, and it will be allowed to remain for the time being.

Elder Wilkinson of Bangor, addressed a large audience at the monthly union temperance meeting held at the Free Baptist church, last Sunday evening.

The firm of Free & Martin has been dissolved. Mr. Free has purchased the interest of Mr. Martin and will continue the hardware business in his own name.

The case of the Van Buren Div. of the T. & S. H. R. R. vs. L. E. Lamphear et al. has been argued in the Supreme Court. A decision will not be made before the September term.

On Monday last the main reservoir at the crossing of Main and Kalamazoo streets, was pumped out by the steamer and replastered. The reservoirs are now all connected together and filled.

The next teachers' institute for this county will be held at South Haven, beginning Monday, August 11th. Prof. W. S. Perry of Ann Arbor, and Prof. J. R. Meller of Constantine, will be its conductors.

Mr. A. S. Downing left at the NORTHERNER office a box of the largest currants we ever saw. They are called cherry currants, and but for the fact that they grow in bunches, would look more like cherries than currants.

G. A. Cross of Bangor, the Fire Hand Grenade man, was in town last week. He gave an exhibition of his grenades, on our streets, which showed that they were good things. The village board purchased a few dozen of them.

We conclude, from reading the last number of the South Haven Sentinel, that Ed. pays his editorial staff(?) a salary of thirty six cents a week. That is very liberal indeed, at least thirty cents more than its labors are worth.

The executive committee on the Fourth of July celebration, desire to acknowledge their indebtedness to many citizens for efficient aid in making the necessary arrangements for the celebration. They wish to thank sincerely, all who aided them in any way by work, use of teams, and in many other directions.

Last Saturday while Richard Trumbull, aged about 14 years, was mowing, on his father's farm, just east of Rush Lake, on the north town line of Hartford, he accidentally dropped one of his lines and while stooping to pick it up, the mower passed over a rough place and he was thrown in front of the sickle bar. One of his feet was taken off, and the other leg horribly mangled. At last accounts he was alive, but little hope was entertained of his recovery.

On Tuesday last a lot of tramp horse traders were in town. While Joe Sage was in conversation with one of them about trading horses, or something of that sort, the tramp, without any provocation, struck him in the face and knocked him down. An inquiry being made for the marshal, the scoundrel mounted his horse and escaped. About 90 days in the cooler would be good medicine for that kind of cattle. Joe says he forgot that he was a constable, or he would have arrested the scamp.

At a meeting of Fidelity Lodge, D. of R., I. O. O. F., on Wednesday evening of last week, the following officers were installed. Mrs. Ida Snow, N. G.; Mrs. Alzina McNeil, V. G.; Miss Mamie L. Fourth of July Notes.

The Gobleville band play well.

All the heads that got pounded, were drumheads.

Barnhardt of the Elkharts, is immense on the tuba.

The various committees performed their work admirably.

Hulbert sold out everything he had and had to shut up shop.

"We never heard so good music," was remarked on every hand.

Bullard played on a rebel drum, one he "gobbled" in the army.

"Del" is a windy fellow. He can beat them all blowing—a life.

Harry Longwell had lots of patrons for his dance at the Opera House.

The Campbellite eating house was well patronized. They cleared $72.00.

It is estimated by competent judges that about 6000 people attended our celebration.

Cummings carries the same whistle he had in the war. He always has it with him, in his boot leg.

The "Narrow Gauge" reaped quite a harvest. The trains were filled till, unlike an omnibus, there was not "room for one more."

Compare the well-behaved crowd with what we used to see, and then say whether or not you would vote to open the saloons on holidays.

A gentleman sitting in the audience inquired the name of the young man who was reciting the Declaration of Independence, and sagely observed, "Well, he is a smart boy if he composed that all by himself."
